Scholarship opportunity for citizens of OAS member States to pursue an online Master of Science in Public Health Nutrition

▼ ABOUT THE PARTNER INSTITUTIONS

The OAS General Secretariat (GS/OAS) is the central and permanent organ of the Organization of American States (OAS).

- Through its Department of Human Development, Education and Employment (DHDEE), GS/OAS supports OAS member States in creating policies and executing programs that promote human capacity development at all educational levels.
- By enabling formative opportunities to citizens, DHDEE strengthens democratic values and security under the framework of regional integration.
- DHDEE does this: (i) by supporting the efforts of OAS member states to improve the quality of and equity in education; and (ii) by assisting the citizens of the Americas in realizing their full potential by giving them access to knowledge and skills through training that improves the standard of living for individuals, families and communities in the region.

UTech, Ja, the premier national university, built on the pillars of scholarship, research and service where each student is provided with the opportunity to learn, grow, develop and reach his/her full potential.

- The UTech, Ja. is committed to the pursuit of academic excellence as it prepares individuals on a lifelong path to achieve "Excellence through Knowledge".
- UTech, Ja is well known for its strength in training graduates in the areas of science, engineering, computing, pharmacy, health sciences, law, sport, nursing, dentistry, business and management, hospitality and tourism, architecture, construction management and teacher education led by a cadre of dedicated faculty and staff.
- Its academic programs ensure that its graduates are provided with the practical skills and “real world” opportunities necessary to advance as leaders and innovators in their professions and who can make a valuable contribution to their communities, the job market and social and economic development anywhere in the world.

▼ ACHIEVEMENTS AND INITIATIVES:

The program has graduated students to be able to work effectively in sectors such as health, food industry, agriculture, education, development agencies, government and non-government settings. The course of study has enhanced knowledge and skills, which foster leadership to design, implement and evaluate programs, identify best/good practices, develop food and nutrition policies that can address the major problems in public health in this hemisphere. For example, the policy challenges regarding the relationship between crises such as Covid-19 and inequity, food security, poverty and social protection will be highlighted.

▼ TESTIMONIALS FROM STUDENTS:

“After completing the PHN program I can now plan and implement appropriate interventions that will improve public knowledge and understanding of these nutrition-related diseases. This will assist the government in their efforts to improve Public Health” ~ Latoya Matthew-Duncan [Graduate 2018]

“The course exposes students to the most critical issues affecting public health nutrition today and challenges them to use the tools given to address those issues effectively. The faculty is a group of well qualified experts who are at the forefront of their field, and prepares the graduates for the real world...”
Dr. Fidel Cuellar (Belize) [Graduate 2019]

“This MSc. Public Health Nutrition course being offered by UTech with funding from the OAS provides vital, relevant, important and hands-on evidence-based information. Graduates of this course will be armed with the knowledge and skills to bring about positive health outcomes for themselves and in their communities through the promotion of food and nutrition security” ~ David Titley (St. Kitts/Nevis) [Graduate 2020]

"A program that is relevant, timely and useful. Relevant in our world where nutrition is pivotal for health and well-being. Timely in a context of apparent apathy amidst escalating diet-related diseases and useful as every module empowers me to take action - in my home, in my community, in my country through collaboration and advocacy, to fight against nutrition-related diseases" ~ Stacy V. De Coteau (Trinidad & Tobago) [Graduate 2020]
